General Comments or Valuable Insight

European interest rate futures expire today.
Make sure you're looking at the correct maps!!

Day session charts and Active daily Continuation charts will be very different, with the latter showing big gaps.

The December futures trade at significant discounts to the September contracts.

I bought some AAPL on the close. I'm risking $1.40.
I'll be using a 107 stop on close.

I'm looking for names that have momentum and whose business models are non-correlated to Draghi's mouth.

There is fervor for the resource names that have balance sheets to buy future U.S. reserves.

Oil is up after the close and the usual suspects should be bid again going into tomorrow's Natgas & Oil Inventory #'s.

If you're involved, I'd use the strength to take something off the table for it should prove to be a volatile day for energy.
