General Comments or Valuable Insight

The grains and metals blew off with the Dollar bottoming yesterday. It's been the same trade.

Selling gold in the mid 1290's would be a gift.

Sell any good rally in the currencies. The worm has turned with mid Feb trades being unwound.

It's going to be a bumpy ride over the summer for equities.
Do not sell weakness in the Indices into the pivot or support zones listed on the matrix.

It will still be a technical trade with bounces at the mvg averages.
