General Comments or Valuable Insight

I'm looking for the board to trade risk on today with the Aussie & Canada trading with a bid tone on the Euro crosses.

Yesterday's low was perfect support on the yearly matrix in the Spu's.

It's the tale of two different indices with Nasd doing it's own thing. You just have to be aware of which one is leading on a particular day.

Spu's bottomed and the Nasd lost downside momentum with the DAX.

There are still plenty of willing buyers playing the contango in the Oil. (Buying near and selling far out) keeping a bid tone to the breaks.

Oil traders should keep on eye on the far out spreads for as the spreads shrink the Oil will find less buyers on the breaks.

For now that's not the game.
