General Comments or Valuable Insight

The hot Equity names continue to be the recent IPO's TWLO, LN ACIA.

These names have now gone from reasonable risk/reward scenarios to insane time frame day trades with the Algos pushing TWLO up around 20% at one point today.

I've run out of stuff to talk about.

I'm not chasing anything at these levels, nor do I believe half the patterns that occur.

Even the grains were a time frame opening range trade last night, and I like the Grains for a bounce.

Name volatility should remain the story going forward in thin markets as the world is at the beach.

Awaiting the mid-week shuffle.

A note to subscribers: I've heard from a few of you that have lost the plot and have gotten yourselves into trades which turned into very wrong way bets.

Part of what you're paying for is the ability to get a second opinion, so ask!

I.E. @ 2043 Spu's I wrote a note to not text, e-mail, or talk to me about selling the Equity markets yet I find that some of you are in leveraged short ETF's.

Country fan? I suggest you listen to Jerry Jeff Walkers "pissing in the wind"

Not something you want to do with your money!

Yes we're overdue for a small break, one I'm looking to buy.
