General Comments or Valuable Insight

Full Moon Trading here we come.

Shoot me, I was a tick off on the target in the Spu's.
It only took an atypical 7 weeks!

What's next?

I can't have my RIA's turning their books upside down,
and they definitely do not want to start chasing stuff
here.

TZA is a triple short small cap that is cheap enough for a weekend long that you won't get blown away owning even if the market keeps grinding up.

It's a cheap look at insurance that can be kicked out Monday.

Futures traders need to focus on the early Asian trade to see if there will be follow through in the Nikkei, which is into resistance on the daily chart.

You have the Spu's hitting it's first swing target with the other bourses trading into resistance and upside momentum #'s.

Let the price action tell you what to do.

My plan was to wait until tomorrows close to buy some insurance via the Triple Short ETF.

Profit taking either starts over the weekend or it doesn't.

I'm not calling for Armageddon; I'm just looking at doing a small Full Moon contra-trend Punt.

If it turns into something, you have a little balance to a long only portfolio.
