General Comments or Valuable Insight

There was a lot of buying today as FOMO set in.

A lot of institutions blindly bought today, but then it's not their money.

They are not concerned if they have to take a little heat before they're proven right.

MSFT has not disappointed in many earnings releases. A mid week back and fill into the mid to low 66 level would make buying Friday calls attractive.

Nasd 100 won't set back much with the Tech earnings lineup for Thursday.

The Steel companies, CLF,X & AKS, report tomorrow.

The trade will be instrument specific in the names.

I have a bias to buy the Indices on mid-week weakness into their weekly gaps.
