General Comments or Valuable Insight

Tomorrow I'm looking for two flows. First I'm looking to see how much first of the month buying materializes.

Second flow will entail posturing before the afternoon FOMC release.

I'm looking for a tradable high over the next couple of sessions in the 30 yr.

I'm in no rush to pick one but the mid-week shuffle should provide the opportunity to give it a go.

Futures traders should be selling the Gap @ 155.07-11. The chances we will see this level has a very low probability of occurring.

Euro...I'm a seller on a mid-week shuffle high @ 117.50. Definitely worth a go with a 25 tick stop.

If Euro trades to that level it will be in conjunction with a Bond Futures rally.

Use today's closes as your near pivots in whatever you trade.
