General Comments or Valuable Insight

Mid-Week Shuffle

The Mid-Week shuffle (often times involves "Rip Your Face Off" contra-trend direction) is a time when markets are trying to affirm or change direction.

This involves instruments that are trying to relieve the directional pressure (RSI's) – general price action that tries to drive out directional players.

In the above case it did a number on the longs worldwide.

Tomorrow is another day with the Spu's & Nasd higher on the week.

It was interesting to see the yield curve correct by the short end rallying and the Long end heavy.

No ORL's in the Spu or Nasd.

The Bull loves to punish late day shorts.
