General Comments or Valuable Insight

The Risk spreads remain bid.

I use them to determine what is leading and if the Indices can correct with the spreads positive.

Japan and European Indices need work before they form up again.

I have my doubts about upside in our Indices with Europe and Japan in retrace mode, hence the neutral stance on the Indices.

IBB put in an interesting 2 day low into it's 200 DMA. If this starts up next week the rotation will favor Healthcare.

It's going to be a singles game for a while. Pick the right name and you'll get rewarded.
