General Comments or Valuable Insight

If I'm looking for a Mid-Week Shuffle low it's the Russell that has potential.

I need to see some more price action in Nasd & Spu's before I make a call.

Europe and Japan trade heavy making me look for higher European interest rate Futures to trade up into their expirations tomorrow.

The Semiconductor Index looks different on every time frame.

Of note is the potential multi-decade double top.

I'm neutral Nasdaq until I see sustained price action above this potential top.
