General Comments or Valuable Insight

Robb and some of the guys were on Cattle early.

The room focused on some of the momentum names highlighted above.

Day traders in the Indices caught the rally.

It's a big trade in many asset classes including cryto.

We don't trade to be right

Judd's room is open.
Invites are sent before NYSE Opens.

I've started screen sharing just after 7 A.M. CDT. I start speaking @ 8:20.

Please check your spam folder or your Google calendar if you don't see an invite.

Not there? Just let me know in the A.M. to get one when the room opens.

W begin answering questions around 8:20 CDT.

I will review any instrument available on my platform and tell you what if anything I see

These are simple moving averages. When you roll a chart to weekly or monthly the averages are simple weekly or monthly mvg averages.

The reddish purple is an embedded Imoku line which acts as momentum.

The leaf green is an embedded Imoku line which calculates 50% retraces.

Brown line is where the Macd with histogram crosses. The line shows the visual on every time frame so you don't have to guess looking at the price of the cross in a line study.
